THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN.

VOL. III. NO. 21. WHOLE NO. 125. BLOOMFIELD, N. J., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1885. PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR.

THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN

A WEEKLY JOURNAL

OF

Local News & Home Reading.

Entered at the Post-office at Bloomfield as second class matter.

Office: Over the Post Office.

Office Hours: From 7:45 to 9 o'clock P. M. Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Special Notice.

The office of the CITIZEN is open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, from 7.45 to 9 o'clock. Contributions should be sent to the office not later than Thursday evening.

The author's name must accompany all communications or contributions to the CITIZEN (which will be published or not as desired). All others will be rejected.

NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

—Chicken thieves disturbed the quietness of Canal street on Tuesday night.

—The case of N. B. Adams vs. Richard Jacobus is set down for trial in the Essex Circuit on Monday next.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Langstroth and Mr. John G. Zabriskie have gone to Clayton, New York.

—Mr. Douglas Henry, who has spent the summer at Glenridge, has returned to his house in New York City.

—Mr. R. G. Thomas, who with his family spent some time in this town this summer, is at present living in Orange.

—The cases of the State vs. Degnan and Peter Mc Kenna vs. Fred. Shrump will be tried before Squire Hageman today.

—The Watsessing base ball club defeated the Bloomfield club by a score of nine to two, on Saturday afternoon, at Watsessing.

—Mrs. Samuel Carl has taken out letters of administration upon her late husband's estate, and the stock and fixtures of the store are for sale.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred. E. Langstroth left last Thursday for the White Mountains, where they expect to enjoy themselves for two weeks or more.

—Mrs. Graves, daughter of General Edwin L. Hayes, has we understand, purchased the Thomas House on Hillside avenue, from the Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co.

—Mrs. Theodore Harvey's night blooming cereus came out again last Wednesday night with nine fully developed flowers. Mr. W. H. Cook's plant had two flowers on Saturday night.

—Christopher Fritz tied his horse to a marble post in front of Conrad Bohr's residence on New street Saturday evening. While a train on the N. Y. and G. L. railroad was passing, the animal became frightened and broke the post off near the ground, but by its weight a runaway was avoided.

—William Hayes, a deaf and dumb mute who lives with his wife on Glenwood avenue, was arrested on Tuesday night for beating and kicking his wife. He was given a hearing before Justice Hall and committed for five days. Hayes has, for some time been very abusive to Mrs. Hayes and this slight punishment is no more than deserved.

—A disorderly gang of roughs is complained of near the canal bridge at the foot of the plane. Last Friday night one of the party endeavored to force an entrance into a saloon, after their money was exhausted, and in the encounter was struck on the head with a club by the proprietor. Our Law and Order League should turn their attention to relieving this neighborhood of the gang.

—On Tuesday afternoon an Italian organ grinder was playing for Mrs. Andrew Brady near the canal plane. She was so charmed with the music that she did not notice him pick up an umbrella upon his departure. When the article was finally missed he had gone some distance down the canal. Mrs. Brady and three boys ran after him. Seeing he was pursued he also ran but was overtaken. The Italian and umbrella were not improved through the encounter.

—The pulpit of the First Presbyterian church will be occupied tomorrow by the Rev. William S. Dodd, a son of Rev. Edward Dodd, who died many years ago while laboring as a missionary in Turkey, and a grandson of the late Zophar B. Dodd of honored memory, who for so many years served as elder in this church. Mr. Dodd is under appointment from the Am. Board of Com. for Foreign Missions as a missionary to the same country, and expects soon to enter upon his work.

—The case of Ward vs. Fenzlaff and others which is an action for damages resulting from the depositing by the defendant of the contents of cess pools near the plaintiff's house, is set down for trial on Monday in the Circuit Court. The case is attracting considerable attention in Verona where the plaintiff lives.

Bloomfield Licenses.

To The Citizen:

Following are the names of signers of applications for inn and tavern licenses in Bloomfield:

Benj. Morehouse, Fred. Florus, Wm. Frank, Wm. O'Brien, Peter Mannon, Joseph Morris, John Murphy, Wm. Raab, James Boyne, Charles Shafer, John Gehring, John Stankweskie.

Wm. Upton, James Finnegan, James Mulligan, M. J. Callahan, Geo. Hampson, John Peters, George Geib, Joseph Heinz, William Lyon, Christian Hass, Walter Kent, Vincent Mechler, John H. Lockwood, John Schneider.

Edward S. Wilde, William Hill, Martin P. Croghan, Arthur O'Hare, John Dougherty, John Jaeger, Ph. Dunnigan, Jacob Wagner, J. J. Hansen, Michael O'Hare, George Buechner, Peter Farley, August Koehler, D. A. Newport, Jacob Bollenbach.

John J. Miller, George Peterson, Jacob Maier, John P. Widen, Julius Gemeinert, James S. Nicoll, Charles Meinhart, Jacob Leu, John Bauswein, Henri Leu, John Gottschalk, Julius Fioter, Martin Scueip, Chas. Hess.

EX.-COM. LAW AND ORDER LEAGUE.

Essex County and Vicinity.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society report that the entries up to this date are much larger than they were last year. In the poultry department they are double, and in neat cattle they are far ahead. The Society has decided to issue no stockholder's tickets this year.

At a meeting of the Hoboken Common Council, Tuesday night, Councilman Londrigan created a disgraceful scene. He was intoxicated, and continually interrupted the proceedings. Three officers were summoned to remove Londrigan, but the meeting adjourned before they arrived.

Uzal Dodd Post, of Orange, will make an excursion on Monday, from Newark, in the Laura M. Starin, to witness the yacht race. It will leave Headley's dock near Centre street depot at 9 A. M. The Starin is specially licensed by the Government to run outside, and the trip promises to be a pleasant one.

The men employed by Heller Brothers, file makers, at Woodside, to the number of nearly 100, struck work, on Monday, because an advance of ten per cent was not given them. The men say the increase was promised to them, and the Heller Brothers say it is impossible to grant it with business as it is.

The annual dinner of the Seventh Regiment Veterans, N. J. Vols., will take place on Friday, September 18th, at No. 188 Market street, Newark. Generals Sickles and Price and other prominent military men will be present, and an attempt will be made to have on hand the Confederate flags captured by the regiment during the war.

The Finance Committee of the Board of Freeholders recently made an investigation of the matter of fees due the county from Justices of the Peace. They ascertained that nearly all the Justices' business is transacted by the city officers and upon it the county has no claim. The remainder is so small that the county's claim is inconsiderable. The Auditor has written to the justices throughout the townships directing their attention to the law, and if there are any dues they will be collected.

The Essex County Courts opened on Tuesday with a vigorous charge by Judge Depue to the Grand Jury. The charges of the Court review of the evil doings of the community for the time which has elapsed since the last one was delivered. A large number of tavern and saloon licenses were granted by the Court of Common Pleas. The applications from Bloomfield were laid over three days to give the Court opportunity to consider a remonstrance sent in by the Reform Club and numerously signed by citizens, against the granting of licenses.

Arrangements have been completed for the Moody and Sankey revival meetings to be held in the Park Rink, Orange, on September 20th, 21st, 22d and 23d. A union prayer meeting of all the churches will be held previous to the Moody and Sankey meetings. Edward Greene, a gentleman of large experience in such meetings, is to be chief usher, with authority to appoint his own assistants. G. A. Newman, who has charge of the musical arrangements, reported that 105 ladies and 81 gentlemen had expressed willingness to sing at the meetings, and it was thought desirable that the number in the choir should be increased to 300 in order to secure the attendance of about 200 at each meeting.

In the Court of Common Pleas on Thursday last the following appeals from Bloomfield were decided: Peter Fulman, appellant, vs. Hannah Pierson, appellee, Appeal dismissed. Frederick Fulman, vs. Rubenstein appellee, Appeal dismissed. Frank, appellant, vs. Louis Behr appellee, Appeal dismissed. Schroeden, appellant, vs. Benoit, appellee, Appeal dismissed. Graham, appellant, vs. Cosgrove appellee, Plaintiff nonsuited.

List of Letters

Remaining unclaimed in the Post Office at Bloomfield, N. J., on Wednesday, Sept. 9, 1885:

Artiz, H. J.	Morris, Mrs. Mary
Brown, Mary L.	Pierson, Phebe J.
Brooks, Mrs. C.	Post, Henry
Corbin, A. J.	Robt, Mrs.
Donnelly Co., John	Scott, Mrs. Sallie
Eager, Geo.	Scholte, W.
Felton, M.	Streid, M.
Gardner, E. D.	Treiltein, John
Gosker, Lizzie	Wall, F. A.
Goble, Dr. J. R.	Winfield, Lester
Hague, John	Williams, William.
Jacobus, Mrs. Priscilla

Any person calling for the above will please ask for "advertised" letters.

H. DODD, P. M.

An Effective No-Dress Appeal.

To the Citizen:

The publication of the following in your columns at this time, when the bee of prohibition buzzes in the bonnets of some of our no-license citizens, will oblige

ANTI-RANT.

A Thrilling Tale.

At a certain church meeting in a neighboring State, the question came up where the line should be drawn as to female apparel. The minister's wife, it seems, had been seen in a black silk dress and some of his parishoners thought that she was setting an example of awful extravagance. After a pretty full discussion of the question, however, the general opinion seemed to be that the female members of the congregation should be allowed to dress as they thought fit; and the question was about to be put—"Resolved, that the female members of this congregation be allowed to dress as they please, but that the church views with disfavor any extravagant or immoderate dressing," when there arose from one corner of the church a miserable man, whose tattered breeches and rimless hat spoke his poverty, and his haggard face and labored breathing told of approaching death. He stretched his bent form to its utmost height, and raising his thin right arm above his head, so as to produce an impression of even greater height and thinness, he stood for a minute without speech. The impressive silence lasted for a moment, and then was broken by the cracked and wheezy voice of the old man, raised to its highest pitch, as he cried: "Stop, hear me! all that has been said about moderate dressing being the parent of extravagance is true; all practice, all experience teaches that, all wearing of silks and satins, except, perhaps, oiled silk, is excess. Look upon me; you all know me or did once; I had the best farm in the country; I had a beautiful and devoted wife and four charming girls; where are they now? all gone, dead or worse, every one of them ruined by extravagant dress; they were all taught to believe that becoming dressing was safe, until the desire for fine clothes, a little finer than their neighbors, became a passion with them." Then pointed to your wife and to yours and to your girls (pointing his bony finger at the minister, the deacon and the dry-goods dealer, a prominent churchman) and said: "Surely, we ought to dress as well as they do; I saw the fatal spell creeping over them; I argued, begged and prayed them not to overwhelm me with ruin to satisfy their extravagant tastes, but all to no purpose. The example set by your wives was more than a match for my logic; your teaching outweighed mine; the minister said he could see no harm in his wife's wearing black silk, the dry-goods dealer let his daughters dress in the height of fashion and took my farm to pay the debts of my extravagant wife and girls. You see me now, probably, for the last time; my end is drawing near; I have come from my only home, the poorhouse, to adjure you all to wear the cheapest clothes, that the temptation to outdo you may be withdrawn, and the untold miseries caused by extravagance among women may be done away."

The miserable man vanished. A dead silence fell upon the meeting, and when the vote was taken upon the question: "Resolved, that hereafter the members of this congregation wear no clothes" it was found to have resulted in a unanimous yes.

The inspiration of the above is to be found in the article in your last issue headed "An Effective No License Appeal."

A. R.

The Reform Club Petition.

To the Citizen:

The petition presented to the Court of Common Pleas last Tuesday, praying the Court to grant no licenses in Bloomfield at this term, was, I am told, the offspring of the Reform Club and not of the Law and Order League. The Reform Club seems to be tired of waiting for the total abolition of saloons in Bloomfield by the Law and Order people, and means to take a hand itself.

If the Club will take our advice it will keep its hands off and permit whatever legal proceedings are taken to be taken by the proper parties—the very parties in whose hands they placed it. Such petitions not only do no good but they do actual harm; they cast the shadow of intolerance over all attempts to regulate and control the traffic in intoxicating liquors and nothing will more certainly defeat all such efforts than the belief by the Court that they are the outgrowth of bigotry. But perhaps the Reform Club does not care for success, but only to keep itself before the eye of the public.

LAW AND ORDER.

The Soldiers' Monument to be erected at Atlanta, Ga., is to have statues of Grant, Lee, Johnston and Sherman at the base of the column. Near the top will be two soldiers, the blue and the gray, clasping hands, and above the globe that crowns the summit will be the Goddess of Liberty.

Letter from Saratoga.

UNITED STATES HOTEL,
SARATOGA, SEPT. 7TH, 1885.

The golden days have come again, and Saratoga is luxuriating in balmy skies and delightful weather. There is a tonic in the very air, which has a most exhilarating effect upon the system, and which is certain to be beneficial to those who remain here during the pleasant month of September. In despite of the lateness of the season, Saratoga is crowded, and is likely to continue so until October, the two great political conventions meeting here during the latter part of this month.

This week the Social Science Convention will meet in Putnam Hall, opening the evening with an address by the President, Hon. John Eaton of Washington. Wise-looking men and women are gatherihg in force today from all parts of the country to attend this convention, which seems to be a kind of annual picnic for all kinds of reformers, at which they may ventilate their peculiar hobbies to their own mutual edification, and without doing much damage or good to their neighbors, since this wicked old world seems to wag on just about the same as ever, in despite of the social scientists, who are as full of theories and isms as the sea is of water. Most of the wiseacres among the scientists come from Boston and its vicinity, while here and there a Congressman from the far west or some other locality, who is possessed with the wild idea of re-organizing Congress altogether, and making it the eminently respectable body it should be, mingles with the reformers in search of new ideas which may help to ventilate his own peculiar theories. It cannot be denied that this is a world of illusions, and some of the most charmingly illusive dreams of the summer are the various conventions which meet every year in Saratoga with the pronounced intention of performing great wonders, which, however, never take place. The lawyers meet here every year, have a good time, drink plenty of spring water, or something stronger, wind up with a grand banquet after their arduous labors in the way of making legal speeches, and reading long-winded papers which are intended to elucidate knotty points of the law, and yet the law goes jogging along year after year in the same old cumberous way—while lawyers put big fees in their pockets, and their clients cry vainly for justice in the courts, if they are lucky enough to outlive the delays of a lawsuit. The lawyers make a great hue and cry about necessary reforms in the law, but the wily creatures know all the time that simplifying the law would mean smaller fees, and so they go on helping to muddle the law, which is all a muddle anyway, so that a man may be married in one state, divorced in another, and die in a third, without knowing whether he is really married, or divorced, or who will be his legitimate heirs, and so on till the end of the legal chapter.

This whole week in Saratoga will be taken up with morning and evening meetings of the Blue Lights, and we shall have an avalanche of wisdom, enough to settle our heads after the giddy reign of the fashionable season. Whether anything is to come of it remains to be seen. It is only the politicians who really work wonders when they put their heads together and bring about decided results after their arduous labors. Many of them are on the ground already, making ready for the convention and keeping the telegraph wires busy with sundry secret messages to political aspirants, who "positively decline" to run, but who are still quite ready to be "compelled" to accept gubernatorial honors. Hon. Levi P. Morton, our recent minister to France has been spending a little time at the Springs and is selected by his friends as the most available candidate. Mr. Morton says he is glad to be at home once more, after his four years' absence, and he would undoubtedly do honor to the office were he elected Governor of New York. Just now, however, the politicians here are higgling over the chances of Gen. Carr being the most popular candidate for the Republican nomination. Hon. Wm. Groesbeck and Mrs. Groesbeck of Cincinnati, Ohio, have been spending the summer here and Ohio politics have been well cancussed upon the hotel piazzas. The Southerners here are naturally wrathy over Sherman's and Foraker's speeches, while all honest Republicans wish them God speed.

Down on the American hotel piazza, which is close by the States, there are a number of cosy rocking chairs, in which the politicians love to hob-nob together, and talk over the prospects in a comfortable way. They say that "Brother Yarnham" who keeps the American, is a "jewel of a landlord," and sets the best table in all Saratoga county. As for the mint juleps, claret punches, and other like beverages which these vivacious politicians are sometimes seen sipping in these very rocking chairs upon quiet, starry nights, nothing is said about them, except that they are "American" mixtures, and only the initiated understand. There is a great deal of talk about drinking spring waters, but there are really a great many beverages popular in Saratoga, which, it may be strongly suspected, never came from the springs. Among the prominent visitors here is Hon. Eugene V. Schuyler, our recent consul to Athens, who has been studying foreign affairs for many years, and whose recent article upon the political situation in Russia, in the September Atlantic, is being read with great interest. Mr. Schuyler has in contemplation retiring to private life, and writing an elaborate work upon Russia, for which his long residence in that country and his familiarity with other parts of Europe, while filling various official positions eminently fit him. Hon. Andrew D. White, late President of Cornell, Prof. Wayland of New Haven, Prof. Goldwin Smith, of Toronto, are among Saratoga's prominent guests, also Admirals Le Roy and Rowan, retired officers of the U. S. Navy. Every train brings in hosts of new arrivals, and from the heaped-up appearance of the baggage wagons, piled with trunks, September Saratoga is likely to rival the autumnal forests in its brilliant display of feminine finery.

SOPHIE SPARKLE.

Dr. George W. Curry, a young homeopathic physician of Red Bank, Monmouth county, shot and killed himself, after having attempted to kill Miss Susie Westcott, whom he wished to marry. Miss Westcott was unharmed, the bullet glacing off her corset. It is generally believed that Curry was insane.

State Items.

President Cleveland is alleged to have stated to a newspaper reporter a short time ago that he had made all the changes in the New Jersey Presidential post offices that would be made before the expiration of the terms of the present officials.

At Pennsgrove, watermelons are now being shipped at $9 per hundred for prime and $2.50 to $3.50 for the smaller fruit. The indications are that the late crops will be very large. The sweet potato crop is a large one and in good condition. Growers are now harvesting them and report that from three to four baskets are yielded to the hundred hill. The prices range from 60 cents to $1 per basket.

The twenty-seventh annual fair of the N. J. State Agricultural Society will be held on the fair ground at Waverly, N. J. on Sept. 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19. There will be the usual attractions, which are sufficient to secure a large attendance. It is an exhibition of which every Jerseyman should be proud and add to its success by going and taking his friends. It is expected that the fair of the present year will surpass all exhibitions heretofore held by the Society.

Upon a petition of a hotel keeper named Jackson Bryant, of Bridgeton, Cumberland county, Vice-Chancellor Bird has granted a temporary injunction restraining the branch of the Salvation Army in that town from further carrying on their knee drills and noisy demonstrations, and directing the members of the army to appear before the Court on the 14th inst. and show cause why they should not be permanently restrained. The barracks are located in a hall next to the hotel in question, and the proprietor of the latter avers that his business is much injured by the peculiar antics of the Salvationists. The friends of the latter, however, assert that their barracks are conducted in a more orderly manner than the hotel.

LUNDBORG'S PERFUME, Edenia.
LUNDBORG'S PERFUME, Marechal Niel Rose.
LUNDBORG'S PERFUME, Alpine Violet.
LUNDBORG'S PERFUME, Lily of the Valley.

Prohibition Party Convention.

All voters in the 1st Assembly district of Essex county who are in favor of the Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic, and who believe that neither the Democratic nor Republican parties can be relied upon to secure both the enactment and enforcement of adequate laws therefor, are invited to meet in Convention at Watchung Hall, Montclair, New Jersey, on Monday evening September 14th, at 8 o'clock, to make nomination for Member of Assembly. By order Essex Co. Prohibition Central Com.

SAMUEL E. TOMPKINS, Chairman.
ROBT. J. S. WHITE, Vice Chairman.
B. F. CLARK, Secretary.

PICTURE FRAMES.

The Citizens of Bloomfield are invited to call at my store opposite Post Office and see patterns of new styles Bronze, Gold, Plush, Gilt and Hard Wood Picture Frames, I make about 200 different patterns. All kinds of Mats nade to order. Picture Frames repaired and regilded. Prices as low as in New York or elsewhere. Give me a call.

L. R. CHEW.

Opposite Post Office, Bloomfield, N. J.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between J. N. Baldwin and John Place, under the firm name of "The "The Bloomfield Machine Works" has been dissolved by mutual consent, from August 20th, 1885. The business will be continued by the subscriber, at the same location, on Bloomfield Avenue.

JOHN PLACE.

Bloomfield, N. J., Sept. 9th, 1885.

Lost.

Between Bloomfield and Montclair a solo B flat cornet book. Liberal reward will be given by returning it to E. Baggstrom, or Citizen Office

To Let.

House with six rooms, on Morris Place. Inquire of Mrs. E. M. Hulin, Morris Place.

Gold Watch--Bargain.

Fine gold Elgin Watch, full jeweled.

C. F. SCHRADER,
Jeweler, Glenwood Avenue.

Attention.

50 cards and plate engraved and put up in a handsome card case for $1.25.

C. R. BOURNE, Stationer, 100 Wm. St., N. Y., or Bloomfield, N. J.

Art School.

Miss H. A. Shibley.

Thorough instruction in Drawing from Cast, Still Life, Sketching from Nature and Portraiture. Mineral, Oil and Water Colors. All branches of decorative art. Year begins September 22d.

MISS H. A. SHIBLEY,
Belleville Ave., Bloomfield, N. J.

MISS NORTHALL

wishes to announce that she will open

A STUDIO CLASS

in connection with her School,

On Broad St., Opp. the Park,

Bloomfield, N. J., under the direction of MISS AUGUSTA L. BROWER.

Designing will be taught in all its branches. Special Instruction in general Art Topics.
Hours of instruction: 1 to 4 P. M. Thursdays.
" " 9 to 12 A. M. Saturdays.

The Class will begin Thursday, October 8th. 1885. For further particulars apply at Miss Northall's residence, Ridgewood Ave., Glenridge.

BROKEN STONE!

I have finished 4,500 lineal feet of STONE ROAD in Montclair in 60 days at a cost of $3,200, or an average of Forty Tons per day, and have still 1,800 feet to lay there, not including contingent orders. The Town Committee of Bloomfield have decided to lay 2,000 or 2,500 feet and have called for bids. This marks a new departure in the making of Roads for both Bloomfield and Montclair, and means Permanent Hard Roads, Permanent Grades and Permanent Drainage.

The supply at my Quarry aggregates over 100,000 Tons.

GRAVEL!

The Gravel now being used on Monroe Place and repairing of roads is from my pits at Pompton Plains and the supply is inexhaustible. Although "Fine" in appearance it is also FINE in its working. For information and prices inquire of

C. E. McDOWELL, Monroe Place.

JOHN H. TAYLOR,

PRACTICAL PLUMBER AND GASFITTER.

TIN, SHEET IRON AND COPPER WORK IN ALL BRANCHES.

Sanitary Ventilation and House Drainage a Specialty, Also a First-Class Stock of Tin and Hardware.

BRICK SET and PORTABLE RANGES.

Agent in Bloomfield for the Sale of Richardson and Boynton Co's. Furnaces and Heaters.

CITY WATER PUT IN AT SHORTEST NOTICE

Personal inspection given to defective plumbing.

JOHN H. TAYLOR,

OPPOSITE POST-OFFICE. P. O. Box 116.

HARDWARE

For Building and Housekeeping,

MECHANICS' AND GARDEN TOOLS.

AT VERY LOW PRICES,

PETER DURYEE & Co.,

No. 215 GREENWICH STREET, NEW YORK.

Between Barclay and Cortlandt Street Ferries. Corner Vesey Street.

Unanimously Awarded the Highest Prize.

Vienna Optical

AUSTRIA COMPANY.

MOUNTAIN AND BOHEMIAN CRYSTAL

Spectacles and Eyeglasses.

For References apply to C. F. SCHRADER, Sole Agt. for Bloomfield.

There is nothing to be so much desired as Perfect Sight, and Perfect Sight can only be obtained by using Perfect Spectacles.

The Mountain and Bohemian Crystal Spectacles and Eye-Glasses will improve, strengthen and preserve the Sight and keep the eyes cool.

The quality of the Material from which they are made being of remarkable purity, gives them a Superiority for clearness over all other ordinary Spectacles made.

The eye is too delicate an organ to be trifled with, and still people will buy a pair of cheap Spectcles (thinking it is economy), not knowing that they are doing themselves an irreparable injury until it is too late.

The MOUNTAIN CRYSTAL SPECTACLES are recommended in the Vienna Medical Magazine by the first Oculists and Professors of the world, such as Arend, Jaeger and Spaeth, as the best Crystals for strengthening the eye-sight.

COAL.

LEHIGH, all sizes, - - - $4.75 in yard.
FREE BURNING, - - - 4.00 " "

Fifty cents additional when delivered at residence.

R. M. STILES,

Office adjoining Wilde's Store.

Go to

GILBERT & TAYLOR'S

For the Best Quality

LEHIGH COAL

(WELL SCREENED)

SEASONED OAK AND HICKORY WOOD,

Sawed and Split.

Parties purchasing in quantities would do well to get our prices before going elsewhere.

GILBERT & TAYLOR,
P. O. Box 30,
BLOOMFIELD. N. J.

Offices, at Yard, foot of Beach street, on the canal, and with T. D. Cooper, next to Post Office, Bloomfield, N. J.

MARTIN BROS.

BULLETIN.

HUME'S TRADE MARK 196 BEST XXXX FANCY MINNESOTA PATENT

While it is not claimed that "Hume's Best" is the best flour in the world, it can be said, without fear of contradiction, that there is no better bread flour made in the United States.

MARTIN BROS., Agts.

SCHERFF'S

PHARMACY,

Cor. Glenwood & Washington Aves.,

BLOOMFIELD.

PURE DRUGS,

CHEMICALS, Etc.

Open Sundays from 9 A.M. to 1 P.M., and 3 to 6 and 7 to 9 P.M.

Prescriptions Carefully Compounded,

DAY OR NIGHT.

Lowest Rates West.

Remember that you can always purchase tickets at 180 Market St. Newark, at the lowest rates and we advise you to check your baggage to Newark and we will exchange your check for one to any point you buy a ticket. Pullman accommodations reserved in advance.

Open evenings.

FEAREY'S

180 Market St., Newark.